Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 11.-The Stogies were unable to do anything with Harper this afternoon, and for the this season were treated to a cost of whitewash, which "Doggy" Milr and his Hoosier braves plastered on with great liberality. Bates pitched great ball with the exception of one inning, the sixth, when he was hit hard and gave bases on balls, with the result that the Fort Warnes scored five runs.

BASE BALL COMMENT.

Only by winning to-day and fo-mor row at Fort Wayne can the Wheelings make a creditable showing on their first long trip in the west. The start at Dayton with an even split was satisfactory, and one out of three at Toledo was not at all a bad showing, but two straight defeats at Fort Wayne is a sad blow to the enthusiasts at home, and the hope is general that Eddie Poole will be able to take at least one of the Fort Wayne series, by pitching the ball he is capable of this afternoon.

Bowman, who foins the Wheelings Bowman, who joins the wheelings here on Thursday, has been pitching great ball for the West Virginia Uni-versity team. A fortnight ago he pitched his team to victory over the Washington-Jefferson nine, by the score of three to two, with but five hits off his delivery. On Saturdy the return game was played at Little Washington, and this time victory came to the Pennsylvanians. Carson and Bowman were the opposing pfichers, and the West Virginan clearly outpitched his oppo-nent, having eleven strike-outs and allowing Washington & Jefferson only seven safe drives. Washington & Jefferson won, five to two.

Weheling leads Dayton by just seven points this morning, and defeat for the Stogies and victory for the Old Soldiers to-day, means second place for Lytle's

There is considerable talk of releasing Pitcher Bill Wolfe. The club is carrying four twirlers, and all of them have been doing first class work. Wolfe is regarded as the "comer" of the quar-tette, and it is very possible that he will be drafted at the end of the season The drafting price is only $300, and if the management can dispose of young man for a good round sum before the end of the season, it will be to their financial advantage. A strong argu-ment against letting Wolfe go is the present predicament of the Toledos. Manager Strobel tried to get along with three men only, and when Ewing was hurt he was in an awful hole. He has been trying ever since to find a good pitcher, but they are scarce. There are plenty of fair fielders, but twirlers like any one of the Columbus four or the Toledo trio are hard to replace. If the Senators tried to get along with only three pitchers and one of them should get hurt or be incapaciated for any resson, there would surely be sorrow in the Wolfe certainly should be kept until well toward the end of the season -Columbus Journal.

Manager Armour ought to be able to make a good trade with one of his pitchers. When Watkins arrives there will be five twirlers on the Dayton pay-roll. Not more than four will be carried, in al probability. Wright is a good pitcher, and would add streagth to the twirling staff of any team in the league, Armour ought to get a good infielder for him.—Dayton News.

There are several old Inter-staters in the Virginia league this acason. "Shorty" Gilligan, the Wheeling in-fleider and Berte, late of Youngstown, are with Richmond; "Shorty" Delsel, Durrett and Achenbeck, are on the Hampton team, Johnny Bammert is with Portsmouth, and Catcher Hully is on the Petersburg nine.

McClelland and Hamilton Draw. McClelland and Hamilton Draw.
PHTTSBURGH, Pa., June 11.—Jack McClelland, of this city, and Jack Hamilton, of Troy, N. Y., featherweights, fought twenty rounds to a draw to-night at the Milivale opera house, under straight Queensbury rules. Hamilton did most of the leading, but few of his vicious swings landed, McClelland being very expert at ducking. McClelland's blows were the only effective ones of the contest, and he seemed to have much the better of the infighting in clinches. Neither man was badly punished.

During the past week the Carroll Club bowling league closed what proved to be one of the most success-ful tournaments conducted by the club. The handicap idea was a great success, with one exception, that be-ing that the new bowlers, all of whom were entered at 110 or 115, improved so much that they proved a great impedi-ment to the stronger teams. This, however, will be overcome in the next close and exciting from the first to the last game, the Fort Henrys, Captain Hoffmann in command, winning out during the past week.
